

Terms & Conditions

Welcome to our Request a Proposal page for our digital marketing agency. By submitting a request for proposal (RFP) to our agency, you agree to be bound by the following terms and conditions:

Submission of RFP: By submitting an RFP, you agree that the information you provide is accurate and complete to the best of your knowledge. You also acknowledge that our agency reserves the right to reject any RFP that we deem inappropriate, inaccurate, or incomplete.

Confidentiality: We understand that the information you provide in your RFP may be sensitive and confidential. We will take reasonable steps to protect the confidentiality of your information. However, we cannot guarantee that your information will not be disclosed to third parties as a result of unauthorized access or other causes beyond our control.

Intellectual Property: By submitting an RFP, you represent and warrant that you have the right to provide us with the information contained in your RFP, and that the information does not infringe any third party's intellectual property rights.

Use of RFP Information: We will use the information contained in your RFP solely for the purpose of evaluating your project and providing you with a proposal. We may also use the information for marketing and business development purposes, unless you notify us otherwise in writing.

No Obligation: Our agency is under no obligation to provide you with a proposal or enter into any agreement with you as a result of your submission of an RFP.

Disclaimer of Warranties: We make no representation or warranty of any kind, express or implied, with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any information contained in your RFP, or with respect to any proposal we may provide to you.

Limitation of Liability: In no event shall our agency be liable to you for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages arising out of or in connection with your submission of an RFP, our evaluation of your RFP, or any proposal we may provide to you.

Governing Law: These terms and conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction where our agency is located, without giving effect to any choice of law or conflict of law provisions.

Entire Agreement: These terms and conditions constitute the entire agreement between you and our agency regarding the submission of an RFP and supersede all prior or contemporaneous communications and proposals, whether oral or written.

Modification: We reserve the right to modify these terms and conditions at any time, without prior notice to you. Your continued use of our Request a Proposal page after any such modifications shall constitute your acceptance of the modified terms and conditions.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding these terms and conditions, please contact us before submitting your RFP.
